

Connecting with the Power of FIRE

ASSIGNMENT FIVE – Spell Work

Now that you have experienced the essence of fire within yourself, you can perform a simple fire spell to integrate the power of Fire into your magick.

Fire governs sight; it also governs colour. Candle magick using coloured candles gives an extra charge for your spell, since the colour is related to specific magickal energies. Candles are good at absorbing personal power, that is then released as the candle burns. This way fire manifests your intention.

We will use your previously created Fire Altar to work this spell. Ensure you have the following items on your altar, if they were not included when you originally created it:

- Matches
- Incense or Smudging Material
- White Candle & Red Candle
- Sharp tool (nail, toothpick, knife) for etching into the candle

This spell involves the use of colour and candle magick, to connect you with your passion and inner fire.

Sit or stand before your Fire Altar, engrave your red candle with a symbol, picture or word of something that you are passion about or “lights your fire.” For example, if you are passionate about music, engrave a musical note on your candle or if you are a healer you can use a healing symbol from the modality that you practice.

First light your white candle and incense/smudge material and intend it to clear the sacred space around you. Take a few moments to connect with your inner fire that you connected with during your meditation exercise (assignment one) and also assignment four when we charged up our inner fire. Feel free to do the meditation or the charging exercise again before this spell. Once you feel connected to fire, place your hands around the red candle and visualize all of your passion and desires going into the candle and feel the loop of energy between you and the candle flowing through each other. Once you feel the candle is charged with your passion, strike a match above the candle and draw the flame down toward the candle as you light the wick. You have now set the intention to ignite your passion.

Face SOUTH and read the following verse out loud three times:

*I connect with the South to light my fire,
As my passion grows, the flame burns higher.
The fire in my heart and soul burns strong
That I should never wish to wrong
Any person, place, animal or thing
My passion is purified through the fire you bring.
May my will always be kind and true,
And infuse my passion in whatever I do!
Blessed Be!*

Snuff out your candle and thank Fire for its help in igniting your inner light. Whenever you are feeling low on energy, light your red candle and focus on helping to raise your passionate drive and lust for life.
